Peter Rose, an experienced Hospitality Property Manager from the Hilton Doubletree in Manchester, recently revamped the hotel with an impressive new reception, restaurant and bar area. The result of his hard work is a stylish leisure area to welcome their guests.

Because they required flooring that would be both stylish and durable enough to handle heavy traffic – especially in the reception area – Peter spent a considerable amount of time researching floor coverings. In the end, Karndean Designflooring was recommended to him by Bridgewater Contractors.

When asked why he went with Karndean, Peter explained, “The original wooden floor scratched easily, was hard to maintain and looked tired after coping with heavy traffic 24 hours a day. As expected, the new Karndean flooring has proven to be an excellent choice in every respect. It has provided us with a beautiful wood look floor, that’s harder wearing than the original wooden planks and fits in with our new look perfectly.”

Besides being impressed with the look and durability of the product, Peter also mentioned that the team has been very impressed with how easy it is to clean and maintain. “Overall, the new interior revamp of the hotel has been a great improvement to our business,” Peter continued. “I would certainly recommend Karndean Designflooring to others in the hospitality industry.”
